Duesseldorf/Germany, August 24, 2020 - Drone Swarm will be released digitally for PC on 20 October 2020. From today on the sci-fi strategy adventure, in which you command a swarm of 32,000 drones, can be pre-ordered at Steam™. For all those who would like to get an insight before release, can start with the demo at Steam™ today.

On 20th of October 2020 your mission will start: In Drone Swarm, you can use a gigantic swarm of 32,000 drones to search for a New Earth in the vastness of space. When purchasing Drone Swarm, prospective captains can choose between a Standard Edition, which includes the basic game, and a Deluxe Edition, which provides additional digital content in addition to the basic game. These include the first issue of the official comic from 451 Media, the soundtrack composed exclusively for Drone Swarm, and two additional weapon upgrades for your mothership.

Those who pre-order Drone Swarm today can also look forward to a bonus: Until the release on the 20th of October, the Deluxe Edition will be available at the price of the Standard Edition of 19.99€/24.99$/17.99£. You will receive the Deluxe content for free during this period.

Even if it will not be possible to play at this year's gamescom in Cologne, which opens its doors virtually on Thursday, fans still can have a real hands-on experience. For this reason, a demo version of the space adventure is available at Steam™ now - for everyone and without a long waiting line. This demo shows the first missions of the upcoming Sci-Fi strategy-adventure and includes English voice recordings for the first time. Those who are unable to play during gamescom should not be disappointed, as the Drone Swarm demo will continue to be available after the digital fair.

Drone Swarm will be released digitally at Steam™ on 20 October. The Standard Edition will cost 19.99€/24.99$/17.99£. (RRP) and the Deluxe Edition 24.99€/29.99$/22.49£. Until the release the Deluxe Edition can be pre-ordered at the discounted price of 19.99€/24.99$/17.99£.

About Drone Swarm:

You are Captain Carter controlling a swarm of 32,000 drones! Aboard the spaceship Argo you strategically deploy them to overcome any obstacle. Split the swarm to simultaneously defend your ship and attack the enemy. Develop your own tactics, creatively outsmart the enemy, and exploit the environment to destroy alien aggressors. Explore the uncharted galaxy with its many dangers on your mission to find New Earth. Evolve the swarm with new abilities and keep upgrading your mothership to overcome ever more powerful threats.
